

Demand shock or supply shock (E114d)

⇒ The graph shows the initial situation:

Energy costs are now falling sharply, which is favouring production.

- How is this new energy situation affecting the initial situation?
- What impacts can be observed with regard to the price level and the real gross domestic product?

Click here to get the answer!